Chatham, Ontario, 1861 Census Worksheet

This document is a page from the 1861 census of the town of Chatham, Ontario, Canada, which is about 40 miles east of Detroit, Michigan. We can't tell from this document how long some of the people may have been living in Canada. But what can we learn?

| the people may have been living in Canada. But what can we learn? |
|--|
| First, read the column titles to be sure you understand what information was being collected. |
| 1. Where were the African Americans who settled in this Canadian town born? What does their place of birth suggest about them? |
| 2. Are they living alone? Do they have families? What can you say about families? |
| 3. What kinds of work were they doing? |
| 4. What does this document reveal about any schooling the adults might have had? |
| 5. Were the younger people in school, or working at jobs? |
